

JSCE 17th International Summer Symposium

in conjunction with JSCE 70th Annual Conference at Okayama University, 16th-18th September 2015

JSCE 17th International Summer Symposium consists of paper presentations and a half day workshop. The main objectives of the Symposium are to provide a platform for young engineers to examine technological advances and issues, to share their ideas and research projects, and to encourage them to find research partners and teams across languages and distance.

Place: Okayama University, Tsushima Campus, OKAYAMA

Date: 16th and 17th September, 2015

Schedule

Day 1st (16 Sep.) 09:00 – 12:00 Paper presentation 1
13:30 – 17:30 Workshop (See below)
18:00 – 20:00 Networking Reception

Day 2nd (17 Sep.) 09:00 – 12:00 Paper presentation 2

Workshop on

“Why did You come to Japan?”

-EXPECTATION, REALITY AND FUTURE-

In this Workshop, the participants are going to discuss topics such as;

- Why did you decide to study at a Japanese university?
- What did you expect about Japan (lectures, research, life, etc.)?
- What is the reality?
- How do you consider your future as a civil engineer?

Questions raised by you will be answered by coordinators from universities and private companies. Through the discussion between participants including coordinators, we can deepen and share the significance of studying in Japan.

For your Information The workshop and Reception 2014 held at Osaka University

- You are cordially invited to participate in the Workshop & Networking Reception to be held on Sept.16th afternoon. No registration & fees are required.
- A questionnaire for the Workshop will be provided to you before July .
- We will also send you the final program of JSCE 2015 Annual Meeting at the end of July.

Inquiry: International Activities Center, JSCE

Tel: 03-3355-3452 Fax: 03-5379-0125 E-mail: iad2@jsce.or.jp