

CHAIR:

Prof. HITOSHI IEDA

School of Engineering, Dept. of Civil Eng., University of Tokyo

Career: Entered Japanese National Railways in 1978, Worked for several railway projects; speed-up projects of Shinkansen and existing narrow gauge lines; North-East Corridor project in USA; advanced track management strategies, etc.

Research Associate at the University of Tokyo in 1984

Associate Professor at the University of Tokyo in 1986

Professor at the University of Tokyo in 1995

Visiting Researcher at German Aerospace Research Institute (1988-1989)

Visiting Professor in the University of the Philippines (1993-1994)

Visiting Professor in the Tsinghua University, China (2008)

Member of National Councils and committees for such as Infrastructure Development Council, Transport Policy Council, and National Land Development Council in the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism, etc.